Lottery bandit suspects nabbed

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Nearby police departments, including Dearborn, have expressed an interest in questioning a pair of service station robbery suspects nabbed by Romulus police last week.

Police were aided by a mystery woman, who witnessed the last of the alleged crimes and followed the pair until police caught up with them.

The woman, who prefers to remain anonymous, is being praised by Romulus Police for her help in the capture of two service station bandits on April 25, one of whom is an escapee from a state half-way house.

Neighboring police departments hope to question the pair for possible involvement in at least 10 other gas station robberies, where cash and large amounts of lottery tickets were taken.

Romulus Detective Sgt. Gordon Malaniak said the woman had pulled into the service area of the Speedway Service Station at Wayne and Wick roads, when she noticed suspicious activities occurring inside the station office.

The witness watched the alleged holdup occur, in which cash and numerous state lottery tickets were taken, Malaniak said, and then called 9-1-1 on her car phone.

The woman drove her car across the street and continued to watch as the pair ran to their car and fled from the scene. Malaniak said the woman followed the pair in her car and stayed in phone contact with the police dispatcher all the way.

Police patrol units caught up with the pair about a mile and a half away on eastbound I-94, but the male suspect jumped out of the car as soon as his woman partner stopped the vehicle, Malaniak said.

The man, later identified as David R. Barron, 37, currently of Taylor, was nabbed by uniform police officers as he tried to hide in the tall grass.

Malaniak said an outstanding warrant for Barron for escaping from a half-way house was later discovered. He also

Romulus 10K Run

resumes on May 21

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

The traditional Romulus 10K Run, which for 12 years was one of the mainstays of the City of Romulus celebration of Michigan Week, will resume this month after a one-year absence.

Coordinator Dorothy West revealed that for the first time, the 10K Run will directly benefit the Downriver Chapter of the Michigan Lupus Foundation.

The Lupus Foundation is dedicated to improving the quality of life for those afflicted with lupus, a disorder of the immune system, West said.

Further information can be obtained by calling West at 313-663-9740.

Massive housing, golf course plan unveiled

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

A massive new $75-$100 million housing development that will include an 18-hole golf course, restaurant and 25 acres of commercial development was unveiled Monday by Mayor Beverly McNally and Wayne County Executive Edward H. McNamara.

The 338-acre development that McNally says "will become an anchor for our community" is the largest private residential project ever undertaken in the city of Romulus and is located at Van Born and Merriman roads, part of the old Wayne County Eloise complex.

The land acquisition ceremony was conducted at noon Monday at the Holiday Inn Crowne Plaza. About 50 people were on hand to watch as McNamara signed the land over to Salvatore Cottone, president of Resco Inc., a land development company based in Sterling Heights.

The cost of purchasing the property was $1.1 million, Cottone said.

McNally signed the real estate agreement as a witness.

Calling Romulus an "untapped gem," Cottone revealed he planned to begin constructing the public golf course and the first phase of the housing units sometime next year as architect's plans need to be developed and approved by city officials yet.

When the entire planned development is completed, it is to contain 300-400 single family homes, 200 apartments or condominiums, restaurant and 25 acres of commercial development.

Cottone said the first series of residences will probably be ranch and colonial style homes.

"We are extremely pleased with the fine cooperation between ourselves and Wayne County," McNally said, "that has resulted in a project that will greatly benefit both. It will add two things we both dearly need, homes and new residents."

McNally continued, "The city has long hoped for a high quality residential development, and the planned golf course will be an added attraction for the city, county and public."

McNamara added, "This will be a tremendous development for Romulus and Wayne County. There has been a need for a residential subdivision in the city and in addition, a valuable piece of property is being placed back on the city and county tax rolls."

Court split debated

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Unperturbed by threats that neighboring communities may pull out of the 34th District Court system, Mayor Beverly McNally told the City Council on Monday that she has no qualms about lowering the court structure to two judges instead of the current three and placing the Romulus Police Department in the court building.

McNally has felt that the city of Romulus should have the lion's share of control over the 34th District Court. That feeling has irritated some of the leaders of Sumpter, Van Buren and Huron townships and Belleville, who take part in the monthly meetings of the District Control Unit of the 34th District Court.

McNally expressed disappointment that other communities (Belleville, Sumpter, Huron and Van Buren) have expressed an interest in sharing the expected court surplus expected to be over $1 million, "when Romulus was forced to pay all the major costs when there were continual shortfalls."

McNally told the council

"We can nit-pick just as well as they can," McNally said "and we can also save a lot of money by getting out of that old school. In addition the courthouse already has a number of police cells."

McNally also is disturbed that some district unit members are attacking current Chief Judge Felix Rogalle, who she credits with helping to clean-up the financial mess that has existed at the court for a number of years.

The mayor says attacks on Rogalle this year are like the "killing the messenger" philosophy of old.

The "financial mess" McNally was referring to is the $270,000 shortfall that a combined Michigan State Police and Supreme Court probe discovered last year.

Since the probe former administrator Nancy Schuette has been arrested on three embezzlement charges and a new administrator Michael Ramsey has been hired.

DCU members want to check the initial language to see what plans were listed for the court building after the current bonds are paid off.

Ex-court administrator to be sentenced May 20

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

A retired 34th District Court administrator will be sentenced on May 20 after pleading guilty to one count of evading state income taxes in 1987.

Charles E. Walls, who served as court administrator from 1969 to 1987, was accused of failing to report $11,000 of income in 1987. He will be sentenced by Chief Detroit Records Court Judge Dalton A. Roberson.

Walls faces a fine of up to $5,000 and imprisonment of up to five years.

This marked the second time in three months a former Romulus 34th District Court Administrator has been brought up on charges following an extensive audit and criminal investigation by State Attorney General Frank J. Kelley and Director of the Michigan State Police Col. Michael D. Robinson.

Kelley stated, "The under-reporting of income resulted in underpayment of Michigan income tax." Kelley is seeking also restitution of more than $11,000 in Walls' unpaid taxes.

The charge against Walls and the subsequent plea is a result of 1993 audits conducted by the state court administrator's office and the investigation into missing court funds.

The investigation revealed evidence that Walls had received money from the court made out to ABS (Ann's Business Service), a business operated by Walls and his now-deceased wife.

Kelley explained that Walls was apparently performing bookkeeping services for the court, while he was employed as a court administrator and failed to report the income on his Michigan income tax returns.

This February Kelley also charged Wall's successor, Nancy Schuette, with three counts of embezzlement of court funds totalling more than $270,000, while she served as administrator from 1987 until 1993. She resigned after being suspended for six months. Those charges are still pending. She faces a hearing on June 20 on the embezzlement charges.

Secretaries' cups can bring prizes to alert readers

When we selected five top secretaries to honor on Professional Secretaries Day, we asked each one to display her favorite coffee cup.

Our photographers took pictures of each one; a floral cup, one with a Siamese cat pictured on it, another that stated "Classy Lady," and another with the warning, "Beware! Attack Secretary." The fifth cup bore the title, "Classy Lady."

readers to match the five cups with the secretaries who drink their morning coffee out of them. Perhaps, some clue to the secretary's personality or insight into her character can be gleaned from their work places and the quotes from them that were used in our salute to secretaries.

The secretaries, who were featured in the April 24 edition of the Sunday Eagle & Enterprise were:

- Doreen McEvilly, secretary to Romulus Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Bedell who feels "totally blessed having this job."

- Jane Martin, secretary to Wayne City Manager John Zech, who said she likes talking to people because "it's part of my personality."

- Lee Barati, secretary at Hoben Elementary School in the Plymouth-Canton School District, whose most important function is "keeping it all together."

- Sharon Kennedy, secretary for the Van Buren Township Police Department, who said she, "treats people with respect - the way I would want to be treated."

- Barbara Adams-Earhart, a secretary in the psychiatry department at Annapolis Hospital/Westland Center, who says the worst part of her job is answering the phones.

Match the names of the five secretaries with cups A, B, C, D and E, and send the information, along with your name, address and phone number to Associated Newspapers, 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne, Mich. by May 9. Winners will receive movie passes.

The crime occurred at the defendant's Farmington Road home in Westland on June 20, 1993 after Sisler, who is described as having a learning disability, removed the woman from a group home in Detroit.

Man robbed at gun point

A 53-year-old Inkster man told Romulus police he was robbed by two men as he was leaving a restroom at the Shell Station at Van Born and Middlebelt late Friday night.

The victim said the taller of the two men stuck a chrome handgun in his stomach and demanded "give me your wallet."

He surrendered his wallet that contained only his driver's license and credit card, the victim said, and then managed to escape from the rest room area.

The victim said he ran to the front office and then watched as the pair fled on foot into Westland.

The gunman was described as a black male, 6-feet tall, weighing 160 pounds, wearing dark clothes and a ski mask. His partner was listed as a black male, 5-feet, 8-inches tall, weighing 140 pounds and wearing dark clothes.

The senior class luncheon also is scheduled at 11 a.m. June 10 in the local Veteran of Foreign Wars Hall.

The time has been changed for the commencement exercises, Teasdale said, with the program to begin at 11 a.m. rather than the earlier announced 1 p.m. The graduation services will be offered for the first time at the new Romulus Senior High School Field House.

Admission to the graduation will be by ticket only, he said, with all parents and guests to be seated by no later than 10:45 a.m. A professional photographer will be taking photos and a videotape of the ceremony will be available for purchase.

Re-election sought by district judge

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
News Editor

Thirty-fourth District Court Judge Felix Rogalle, who was elected to the bench in 1990, is seeking re-election.

He will oppose former magistrate Mark Maironis and Belleville attorney Josephine Chapman in the August primary. The two top candidates will be placed on the November ballot.

Jurisdiction of the 34th District Court is Belleville, Romulus and the townships of Van Buren, Sumpter and Huron.

In November of 1993, Rogalle was elected chief judge of the court.

In his announcement, Rogalle noted that he has been active in authoring, implementing and participating in alternative sentencing procedures and social awareness programs.

With the help of the probation department, Rogalle has created and monitored a work program as an alternate sentencing procedure. Instead of incarceration, misdemeanants do community work directed by a trained individual, which has saved the communities thousands of dollars over the course of the last three years.

In connection with the Romulus Adult Education Department, Rogalle has implemented a self-awareness program whereby misdemeanant, as an alternative to sentencing, are required to attend classes at the Romulus Adult Education program where they can secure their general education diploma and receive practical advice on securing jobs.

"Victim panels have been established to discuss the pain that the drinking driver has caused them. It is hoped that those attending will alter their standard of conduct. Presently, an ad hoc task force for domestic violence has been formed in the hopes of stemming the tide of continual domestic violence."

Rogalle has 30 years of experience both as a trial lawyer and as a judge. He is a graduate of Belleville High School, Michigan State University and the Detroit College of Law. Rogalle, who is a veteran, is licensed to practice law before all courts in Michigan as well as the U.S. Supreme Court.

"It is important who occu-

Judge Felix Rogalle

pies the seat at the 34th District Court. The judicial seat is important and the person who fills it must be selected carefully," said Rogalle, noting that he believes that fairness to all is important as well as treating citizens in the community and visitors who appear before the court with courtesy, decency, respect and dignity.

"The rights of the victim are as important as the rights of the criminal defendant," said Rogalle.

A fund-raising event is slated at the Belleville Eagles Club on May 19. Interested individuals may contact campaign representatives at 697-1282.

New challenger steps into court race

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
News Editor

Longtime Belleville resident Josephine Chapman has entered the primary race for the 34th District Court judgeship.

In the August primary, Chapman will face incumbent Felix Rogalle and former magistrate Mark Maironis. The two top vote-getters will be placed on the November ballot.

Chapman, whose law office is located on Main Street in Belleville, practices criminal, probate, landlord-tenant, real estate and family law.

"I think the District Control Unit (representatives of the five communities in the jurisdiction of the court) are entitled to input. Without them, the court could not exist," Chapman said.

Among the changes she would like to see in the 34th District Court are crime prevention and education programs. Chapman would like to have night court instituted so that working citizens who come before the court would not lose time from their jobs. In addition, Chapman would like to see the court hire a full-time substance abuse counselor and sponsor a spouse abuse counseling program.

"I'd like to see the court open its doors to the average citizen and provide programs for youth and seniors alike. Law Day would be one of the programs which could bring the court closer to the community by holding court at various high schools in the five communities that comprise the 34th District Court jurisdiction," Chapman said. "By holding court at the various high schools, senior students would be exposed to the workings of the court."

Chapman noted, "There are many problems at the 34th District Court. We have the scandal of the missing funds, and a long investigation has placed a dark cloud over the community. The information that becomes available has not disclosed to the communities any revelation as to where the money went. Also, the wisdom and judgment of prematurely paying off the court administrator who 'supposedly' absconded with part of the missing $270,000 has not been fully explained.

"And, why was the individual who blew the whistle which started the investigation phased out of a job. Before the court can regain a semblance of respect, these questions must be answered," Chapman said.

The candidate said there should be full accountability of the court auctions.

"The judges have control over the court officers, and should ask for accountability," Chapman said. "It has been said that some items were sold before the auctions, and there have been other charges of improprieties. If they have nothing to hide, then why haven't they reported to the community about the auctions?"

Chapman received her undergraduate degree from Eastern Michigan University and her juris doctor from Thomas M. Cooley Law School in Lansing. She is a member of the State Bar of Michigan, Women Lawyer's Association, Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce and the Belleville area music committee and arts council. She is also a member of the Central Business Community, the Belleville-Van Buren Democratic Club and the Democratic Party of Michigan.

Student earns band invitation

Becky Oleszkowicz, first trombone player for the Romulus Middle School Symphonic Band, has won an invitation to the University of Michigan School of Music All-State Band at Interlochen this August.

Her mother, Julie, said Becky was encouraged by a relative to apply for the Aug. 8-21 music activity and was one of the 6,000 applicants. Only 75 youth were selected to take part in the summer program.

Becky, who has been playing the trombone for five years, won the seventh-grade musician of the year award at the Romulus Junior High School last year. She also attended the Fine Arts Camp in Blue Lake last summer.

When informed that she had won the invitation, Becky said, "I was so excited, I almost passed out. But then I realized I did very well with my application, listing of past awards and feedback from my musical directors, particularly Dick Kruse," from the Middle School.

Becky, who still has to earn $650 for tuition for the summer excursion, has no doubt about her aspirations and the biggest thrill she might have at the band camp this summer- "becoming first chair."

Becky's family, including her father, Ronald, continue to be amazed at Becky's plans for life. "She plans to major in mu-

Church blaze

Pastor David Riggs of the Romulus Church of God of Prophecy at 7201 Kempa St. has been forced to move his Sunday church services to the Holiday Inn Crowne Plaza for the rest of the month, because a fire gutted his sanctuary and other parts of the church building. Festival committee prepares for annual mid-May event

It may seem to some residents that the annual Romulus Festival is far in the future, but to the committee members who have been planning the event for months, it is just around the corner.

The event opens with a 6 p.m. May 20 parade and continues through the weekend with a variety of activities - some traditional and some newly introduced.

Serving on the committee, which will be meeting weekly at the Romulus Recreation Center until the festival opens, are Chairman Laurie Klakowski, Maryann Wells, Susan Dorr, Kathy Darnell, Ralph VanValkenburg, Rebecca Klakowski and John Smith.

"Don't forget to mention John. He's our electrician, and without him there wouldn't be a festival. He takes care of all of the lighting," said Laurie Klakowski.

"We've got a lot of new things this year - clowns, a magic show, face painting, gymnasts and the Big City Shades will provide entertainment on Friday," she said. "We've also got our 10K-Run back. This year we're running (a benefit) for lupus. It's an old race with a new face."

In addition to the 10K-Race, the festival will host a 5K-Walk and a Mile Fun-Run.

"The festival begins with the 6 p.m. parade on Friday, and there is a Kiwanis pancake breakfast on Saturday morning," said Darnell. "The Romulus Historical Museum will sponsor Heritage Day on Saturday and there will be a pot luck dinner at 4:30 p.m. Participants can bring a dish to pass, a beverage and their own table setting."

Darnell said the museum heritage display will include memorabilia from the Romulus High School Class of 1918 through the Class of 1970. Old photographs and yearbooks from 1942 on will be displayed, she said.

"We have bingo, too," said Darnell who serves on the bingo event committee, along with Ralph VanValkenburg.

The festival will feature the W.G. Wade carnival, and a festival drawing.

"There will be a lot of familiar activities plus some new events that should make this a great event," said Klakowski.

Conference set for accused rapist

A May 20 final conference has been set for an Inkster man charged with two counts of assault with intent to murder and first-degree criminal sexual conduct in Detroit Wayne County Recorder's Court.

Freddie D. Triplett, 30, was arrested by Wayne police for allegedly sexually assaulting a 16-year-old Westland girl near the railroad tracks in Wayne May 22, 1993.

The incident occurred near Swanson Street and Merriman Road at approximately 9 p.m., according to Wayne Police Lt. Mel Drews.

"The teenager was visiting her grandmother that day," Drews said. "She was distraught about a member of the family who died and decided to take a walk that evening between 8:30 p.m. and 9 p.m."

Triplett allegedly approached the girl and forced himself on her.

If Triplett is found guilty of assault with intent to murder and criminal sexual conduct, he could receive up to life in prison, according to Drews.

Lifetime service awards presented to pair

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
ANP Staff Writer

More than 150 residents attended the Wayne-Westland YMCA recognition dinner honoring Westland resident Joseph Benyo and Wayne resident William Copland for a lifetime of service to the YMCA service communities and celebrating the successful Invest in Youth campaign.

State, county and local officials attended the event honoring the retired Westland firefighter, who received special recognition awards from the Fire Department and for other volunteer work in the community.

Benyo retired prior to the establishment of granting medals and commendations to firefighters for outstanding service. At the dinner, he received a total of 26 career awards for his 23 years of service, including: firefighter of the year, 11 national and state honors, a commendation, six department citations, a merit award and a safe driver's award.

Some of Benyo's more notable awards include: a medal of valor for placing his own life in danger without regard for personal safety, a fire heart award for suffering injury in the line of duty, three lifesaver awards for saving a child from a house fire and resuscitating a woman and baby who stopped breathing.

A photographer and legislative assistant to the Westland City Council, Benyo was instrumental in setting up the first Westland Festival in 1971, establishing the enhanced 911 western Wayne County emergency system in 1987 and the Wayne County Family Center for the homeless.

"When other people said it could not be done, I raised both the conscious awareness needed to let the idea become reality," Benyo said.

Benyo has also been involved in the state effort to keep Michigan beautiful and served as Activities Chair for the 25th anniversary of the city celebration in 1991.

He received the 1993 Wayne-Westland Schools Life-skills advisory award for teaching young women how to protect themselves and help others in medical and fire emergencies and was given the John Glenn Community Historian Award for helping students put together a school production on the history of area.

Involved in the Red Cross for the past 30 years, Benyo is expected to be honored at the annual volunteer recognition celebration May 12 for teaching first-aid, cardio pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) and emergency child birth.

"I delivered 12 babies in my career," Benyo said.

Benyo thanked his wife, Sue, and family for their support throughout the years as well as local officials.

"Career wise, mayors and fire chiefs have given me the support I needed to continue the programs," Benyo said.

"I want to let people know it's not my town or your town, it's our town," Benyo added.

Wayne City Council members recently approved a resolution acknowledging the outstanding efforts of long-time resident and business owner Bill Copland.

"Bill has spent virtually his entire life in Wayne, having moved here from Detroit with his parents as a pre-schooler," said Wayne Mayor Ken Warfield. "In Wayne he has attended school, worked in its stores, purchased a home, raised his family and became the owner of his own businesses."

Copland is active in the Wayne Rotary Club and in 1993 was honored with its Paul Harris Fellow award. He is also active in St. John's Episcopal Church where he has served for many years on the church vestry, and twice as junior warden with responsibilities for system operations.

"He takes an active roll in the Men's Club at St. Johns," Warfield said. "He has served on the board of directors for the Wayne-Westland Young Men's Christian Association and for the Wayne Chamber of Commerce. In 1993, he was selected by the Wayne Chamber of Commerce as its Outstanding Business Person of the Year."

For the last five years Copland has been a member of the Wayne Wheelfest Commission.

"Bill's marriage to Sharron Hines blessed them both with three children: Darrell, Billy and Linda Jane," Warfield said. "They also have three grandchildren. For many years Bill enjoyed coaching and co-coaching Billy's hockey team."

"For several years he also was a 4H father, helping his daughter show her horses."

The children and grandchildren are involved with his family businesses.

"To know Bill is to know that he genuinely cares about others a good-natured caring that is tempered with humility and humor," Warfield said.

Man admits playground assaults

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
ANP Staff Writer

A Garden City man, who has been jailed on several misdemeanor charges involving the spanking of children on elementary school playgrounds, pleaded guilty to two counts of second-degree criminal sexual conduct (CSC) against a child under 13 years of age.

Steven Brion Smith, 31, who is being held on a $100,000 cash bond, is scheduled to be sentenced May 13 before Detroit Recorder's Judge Gershwin Drain. Smith could face up to 15 years in prison on each count.

Smith was charged after sexually molesting a 12-year-old child on Wildwood Elementary School grounds after spanking him and three other young boys on the playground Jan. 11, Westland police Sgt. Laura Moore said.

The incident occurred after school let out and Smith did not know the children involved, Moore said.

"He pulled one of the students pants down and fondled him," Moore said.

Smith has been arrested for prior spanking incidents, according to Moore, but never in connection with sexual assaults.

"He's dangerous. In the past he's exposed himself to children, but never at the same time as the spanking incidents," Moore said.

Smith has been arrested and jailed on assault and battery charges for spankings at Kettering and Elliott elementary schools in Westland and two Garden City elementary schools, Moore said. He has also been charged with an indecent exposure incident near another Westland elementary school, she added.

These incidents have occurred over a two-year period and Smith has been jailed up to 89 days on all of these charges, Moore said.

Police outwit alleged purse snatcher

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
ANP Staff Writer

Westland police officers outsmarted a 30-year-old transient man who is accused of attempting to rob an elderly woman of her purse, according to Westland police Sgt. Donald Haigh.

"I figured out who it was and had him arrested. After the second polygraph test, we got him to confess to being there and having a confrontation with the lady," Haigh said.

Dennis Paul Chapman was bound over to Detroit Recorder's Court for trial on the charge of assault with intent to rob while unarmed after waiving his right to preliminary examination in Westland 18th District Court Thursday. If convicted, Chapman, who is being held on a $1,500/10 percent bond, could be sentenced to a maximum of 15 years in prison.

According to police, a 68-year-old Westland woman was approached by the assailant around 4:30 p.m. March 29 as she entered her car in the Target Store parking lot at 35401

Warren Road in Westland.

The woman was inside her car and in the process of shutting the driver's side door when the perpetrator approached and yelled for her to give up her purse, Haigh said.

The woman yelled for help and the robber fled toward a small tan station wagon and drove away, according to Haigh.

According to Haigh, Chapman did not admit to the attempted robbery, but said the woman bumped him while opening her car door.

A 19-year-old Romulus man, who pleaded guilty to the reduced charge of aggravated assault in the beating of an 18-year-old Westland man about the face and neck with a 12-gauge shotgun, was sentenced to two years probation and 100 hours of community service in Detroit Recorder's Court Tuesday.

Perry Hayes Ledford, who also received a fine of $480, was originally charged with felonious assault which carries a maximum sentence of four years in prison.

The incident occurred around midnight on Oct. 30, 1993 at a 7-Eleven store, located at 172 S. John Hix Road in Westland, when Ledford and three other individuals drove up in a blue Camaro and a confrontation began with the victim and another individual who were occupants of the victim's car, Westland police Sgt. Steve Ryskamp said. When the discussion became heated, Ledford and the victim got out of their respective cars with weapons in hand.

The victim told police he grabbed an aluminum angle-iron from the back seat of his vehicle because he feared for his safety when the attacker produced a shotgun, Ryskamp said.

Ledford backed the victim up against his car and hit him with the barrel of the gun.

"(The attacker) hit him three or four times in the forehead and in the neck," Ryskamp said.

The victim received stitches to his forehead and police photographs of the man's neck show a circular cut made by the barrel of Ledford's gun, Ryskamp said.

Although Ledford reported the gun was not loaded during the incident, police discovered rounds of ammunition in his car, Ryskamp said.

Your honor, we object

Last week, attending a social function, a member of our staff was confronted by Judge William Szlinis of the beleaguered 34th District Court where a year-long investigation has led to charges of embezzlement against the former court administrator.

Reporters from this newspaper and public officials have repeatedly asked questions of the judges at the 34th District Court during this investigation. We've asked about the charges, rumors and speculation which have surrounded the court for many, many months prior to the investigation and revelation of formal charges. Usually, to no avail. We've historically been told "no comment" or phone calls have not been returned or responded to.

At this social function, however, Judge Szlinis apparently decided that the time was right to respond to questions—and to exercise his skilled cross-examination techniques.

After some verbal sparring and attempts to evade the embarrassing situation, and after listening to the judge carefully and repeatedly detail the funding of his car which he explained came from his "travel allowance" and was, therefore, not leased by the court, he demanded that the staff member ask him questions regarding the court situation.

Not once, but several times, even after being told that the time was inappropriate, the person unprepared and uncomfortable in the situation and interruptions of several people to exchange social pleasantries, the judge demanded, in his best Perry Mason style, that he be asked questions.

If the judge was sincere in this request, we would certainly be pleased to hear and to print his answers to many, many questions which have surrounded the court during this unfortunate and unpleasant time.

These questions are:

- Was the trip to Lithuania by Judge William Szlinis paid for by the 34th District Court, and, if so, what purpose did it serve the constituents? If not, why hasn't he said so?

- Since most of the alleged embezzlement occurred during the period that Judge Szlinis served as chief judge, why was he not aware of the shortfalls, and why did he not immediately implement the recommendations of the previous audit?

- Why weren't court officials forthright with the community when the allegations were first made, and why wasn't information which did not infringe on confidentiality or criminal prosecution reported?

- Are luxury vehicles leased for the judges by the court or funded from an expense account? How much travel must judges do outside of the 34th District Court and the immediate five-community area?

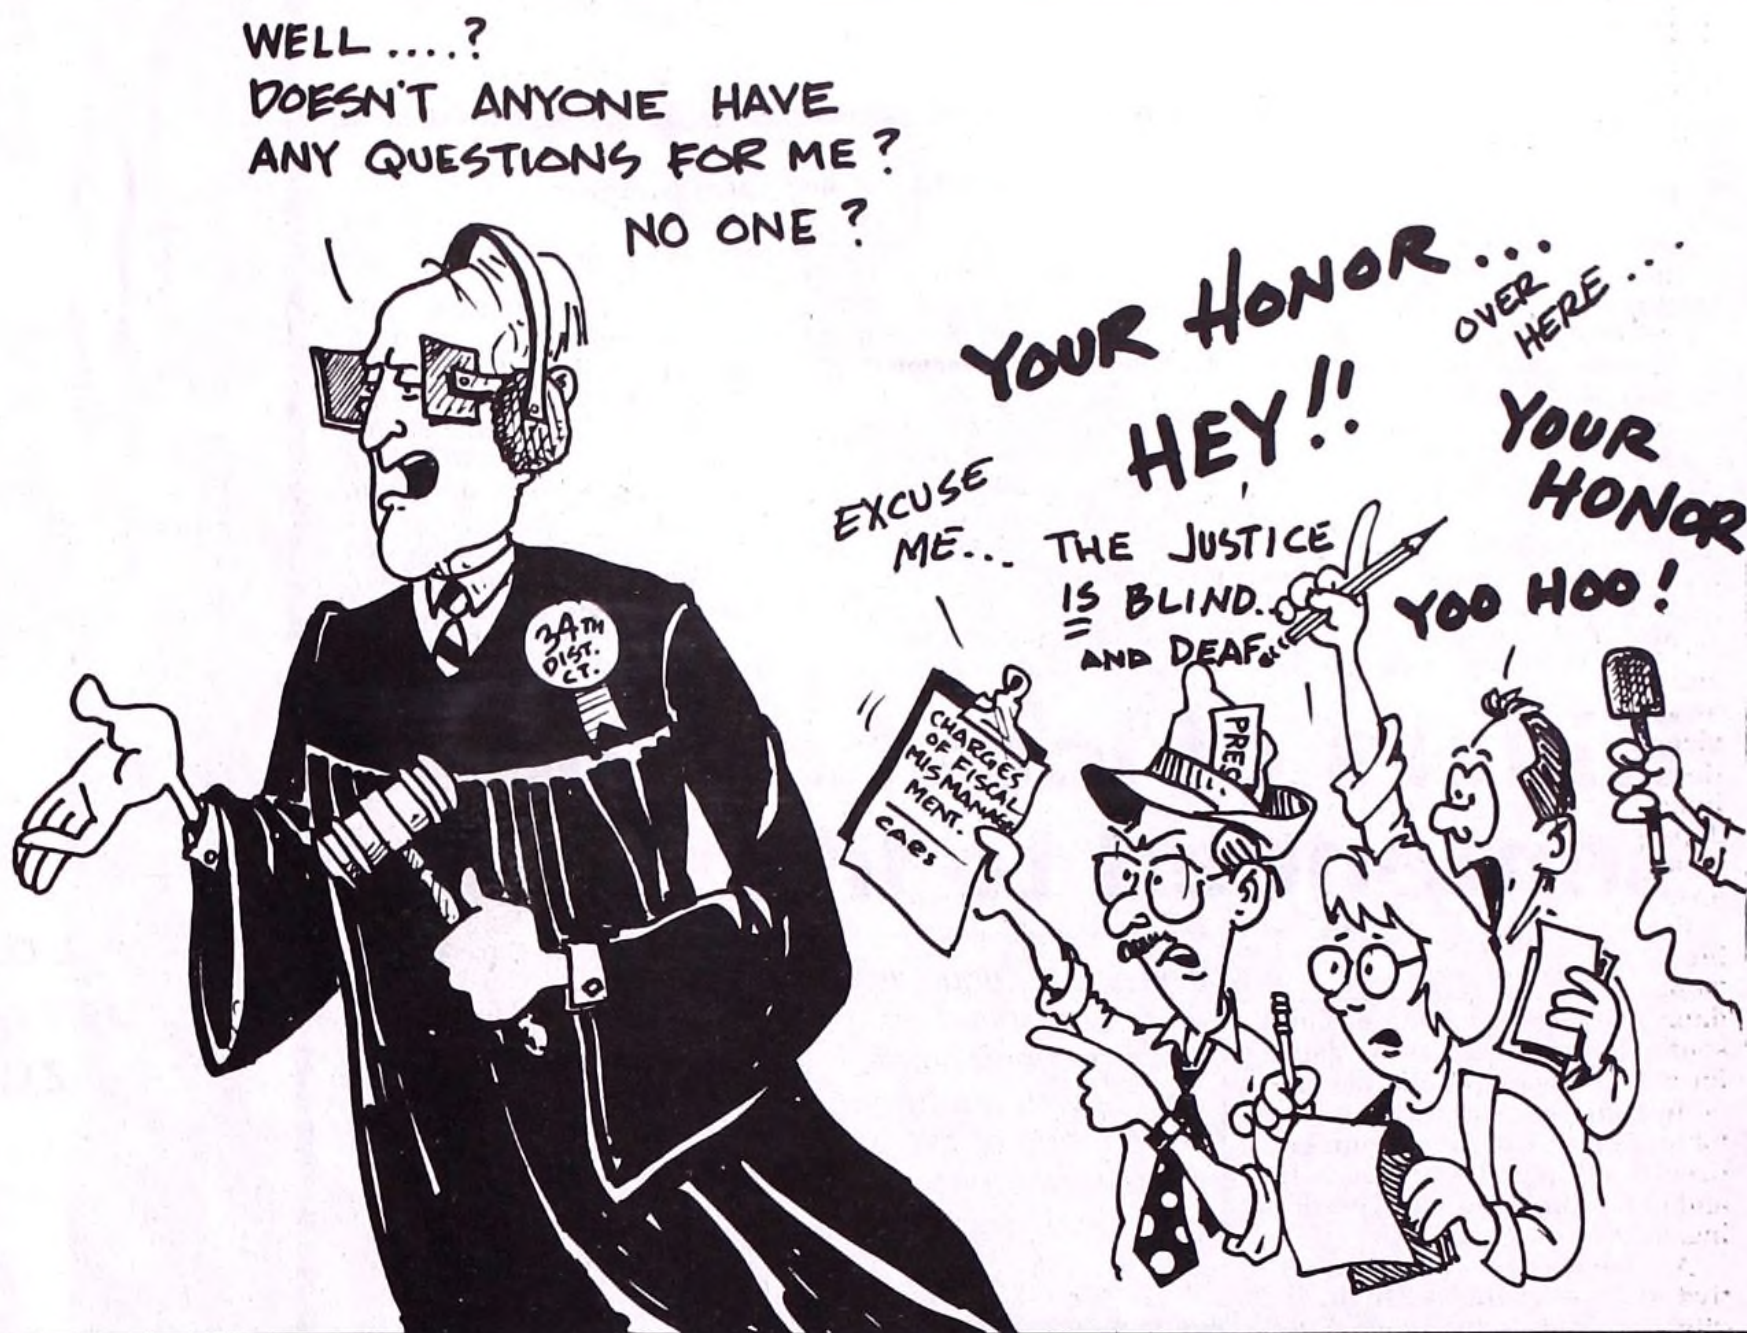

- Has the 34th District Court required competitive bidding on goods and services?

- But most importantly of all, why have the phone calls and questions of reporters not been answered or responded to? Why has their been such a stonewalling of any attempt to provide the answers to legitimate questions of political leaders and residents of the area? And why is it now so important to clarify the issue of how the judges' cars are paid for when for the past months, the controversy has been allowed to rage?

The reason these questions regarding the 34th District Court continue to stir controversy is simply because the questions that have been raised previously have not been answered.

This newspaper has repeatedly called for closure of this investigation by the state, demanding that the judges either be cleared of any wrongdoing or charged with criminal acts and allowed to defend themselves. We have continually criticized the climate of suspicion and rumor which has enveloped the court for all this time and identified the drawn-out investigation and delays as a real detriment to the proper dispensation of justice at the 34th District Court.

But, frankly, after this encounter, our concern about the type of car Judge Szlinis drives or how it is paid for is overshadowed by our sincere hope that he did not drive it home from this function.

Day of Prayer is promoted

To the editor:

May 5, 1994 marks the 43rd consecutive observance of the Annual National Day of Prayer — a day set aside by law for Americans to come together, pause from their daily activities and pray for their nation and its leaders.

Only through the prayer and repentance of Americans everywhere can our nation hope to be restored to the land envisioned by our forefathers. The National Day of Prayer is similar to Thanksgiving or the Fourth of July. It is a national day and a privilege to pause and ask God to Heal Our Land.

In II Chronicles 7:14 (NIV) Jesus said: "If my people, who are called by my name, will humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and will heal their land."

On May 5, 1988, President Reagan amended and signed into law the following: "The President shall set aside and proclaim the first Thursday in May in each year as a National Day of Prayer, on which the people of the United States may turn to God in prayer and meditation at Churches, in groups, and as individuals." (P.L. 100-307, 102 Stat. 456.)

People in the Belleville area are urged to attend this our first annual National Day of Prayer in the Victory Station at 5-Points, Belleville, May 5 from noon to 1 p.m. and 7 to 8 p.m.

Librarian has questions of resident

To the editor:

As a librarian, it was with great interest, and some amusement, that I read the letter from Walter Warren regarding the library as a waste of money. After all, informational professionals have been predicting the death of the book at least since 1976, when I was enrolled in the University of Michigan's Graduate School of Library Science.

My first reaction to reading that libraries are obsolete was to breathe a large sigh of relief. Finally, an end in sight! Finally, my job would quit getting harder and start getting easier. No longer will we struggle daily with the task of getting all those returned books back on the shelf.

Unfortunately, someone has neglected to tell all the readers and library users in the Belleville, Sumpter, and Van Buren communities the good news. These Neanderthals continue to increase their use of the public library at unprecedented rates.

Since the library expansion two years ago, the number of books and other materials signed out has risen 80 percent. That's right, the number of obsolete items checked out has almost doubled! Even more frightening is the fact that the increase has not yet begun to level off. Every month more than 200 new library cards are issued. Over 30 percent of the entire population of our area has a library card and yet more library cards are issued daily.

As though this were not bad enough, even though we have increased the size of the book collection by 50 percent, we still continue to find the demand "buy more books!" in our suggestion box. So if Walter Warren would kindly inform our residents that they are signing out obsolete material in droves, the library shelvees (those student workers who must bring in the books from the outdoor book return, discharge them, and then reshelve those 400 plus books a day) would be quite grateful. And the rest of the library staff, who must issue all those cards, answer all those questions, and spend all that time deciding what books to buy and then buying and processing them, would also be appreciative of a lull in the storm!

Mr. Warren's letter is quite thought provoking. Indeed, the last thought that it provoked was a question. If "the communications revolution has forever altered the way the public gets useful information", why did this letter appear in such an outdated source of information as a local newspaper?

Schools should honor Rev. King

To the editor:

I'm a single mother with a bi-racial little boy, and I live in the Wayne community. I'm writing in regards to your last week's article concerning the "holiday dispute".

As a parent, in my opinion, I feel that we should honor the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and close the schools on his birthday. I also strongly agree on the issue of prohibiting the giving of tests and exams on that day.

As you must be aware, many children do take the day off. I for one will allow my child to take the day off in remembrance of Martin Luther King Jr. I feel this is his right to do so and he shouldn't have to worry about missing a test or exam.

If the school board feels strongly against this issue, they should put it to a vote of the community. As a concerned parent I feel that if the school should remain open on his birthday we should honor him, and have the school day dedicated to his memory.

By allowing students to speak and ask questions regarding Martin Luther King Jr., they will have a better understanding of what he portrayed to the Detroit Metro Area.

Sincerely

Teachers union tactics criticized

To the editor:

Talk about being a poor loser!

This was the week for the teachers union and their paid political puppets in the state legislature to go ballistic. And, it was a pathetic display! I have one suggestion for the public education monopoly - grow up!

Gathered outside the state capitol to protest pending anti-teacher strike legislation, the education establishment and their sympathizers behaved like kindergartners throwing a temper tantrum in front of the candy counter. Some in the crowd compared Gov. John Engler to Hitler and Mussolini. Others mused about the need for another Lee Harvey Oswald, and "Engler Hates Me" buttons seemed to be part of some new school dress code.

Later on, Democratic Party leaders were chattering desperately before the media like a traveling salesman who is about to have the door slammed in his face. Party leaders know the Democratic Party has sold out to the public sector unions - and now they fear the public knows it too.

Those of us who fought for property tax and school finance reform never had to sink to this level of hysteria. For years the Michigan Education Association (MEA) has been whip-sawing school boards into giving teachers generous compensation contracts that were far beyond the financial capability of the communities to pay. Millage election followed millage election - only to be followed yet another millage election. It was inevitable that sooner or later the pendulum would have to swing the other way.

Additionally, serious Democrats had better re-think their approach to the 1994 elections - if they want to avoid a total catastrophe. The "Hitler and Hysteria" approach is a turn off to most voters. And, vociferous MEA backed counter-demonstrators at Engler rallies will eventually backfire and make Gov. Engler seem like to martyr and the champion of the taxpayers' cause.

So, as a private sector taxpayer - I suggest that the Democratic Party leadership focus on this issue - What have you done for us struggling taxpayers lately? If the answer is "little or nothing" - why should we vote for you in November?

Singapore may have the right idea

To the editor:

I am writing concerning the teenager in Singapore who spray painted and vandalized cars. As a result, he will be punished by being caned.

I feel that the consequences of his actions are appropriate considering he is in a different country and faced with different rules and regulations. I also feel that he had lived long enough in that country to learn the rules and not he should pay the price. We might want to take a look at the size of Singapore which is about the same size as Los Angeles, Calif. and yet the number of murders in Los Angeles was about 1,100 compared to 21 in Singapore.

Maybe we as the United States need to look more closely at this country, which uses caning as a punishment, and compare the United States and see what a difference the punishment has made for Singapore.

The face of the matter is, that maybe we could use this method to make our country a safer and better place to live.

Killers of local couple sentenced to life terms

Two men convicted of murder in the August 1993 deaths of four people, including two Westland residents, were sentenced to life imprisonment without parole in Gladwin County Circuit Court Tuesday afternoon.

Charles Loran Treece, 20, and Michael David Elliott, 20, were found guilty of four counts of first-degree premeditated felony murder, armed robbery, breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny, arson and felony firearms in the deaths of Westland residents Kathy Rose-Lane, 38, and Bruce Tufnell, 33, and Gladwin County residents Vicky Sue Currie, 39, who lived with Tufnell's cousin Mike Tufnell, 39, in the Bentley Township home where the vic-

The two defendants were sentenced on each of the separate counts with a total prison term of five life sentences plus additional years in prison.

Treece and Elliott were convicted after jury trials and the two other defendants plea bargained to lesser charges.

Paul Delbert Treece, 18, and Tammy LaCross, the 16-year-old daughter of Currie, plea bargained to the charges of armed robbery and felony firearms and face sentencing in May, according to Gladwin County clerks.

Mr. Tufnell and Mrs. Lane arrived at Mike Tufnell's home during the evening hours of Aug. 6, 1993 en route to a family reunion in Harrison, Mich., according to Carol Gillentine, a Westland neighbor and friend of the deceased.

The fire was discovered by police at 7:11 a.m. the next morning, but due to the severity of the blaze officials could not enter the home until late that evening, Gladwin County Sheriff Michael Hargrave said.

The four victims were found shot and burned to death in what police believed to be a drug-related shooting, Hargrave said.

Belleville wins own track relay championship

Romulus finishes in 3rd place

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Competing in the worst of conditions, Belleville managed to survive a threat from Plymouth-Salem to prove it had the best team at the fifth annual Tiger Relay Invitational championships on Saturday.

"It was a miserable day to hold a track meet," said Belleville coach Dave Medley. "The rains and the cold wind hit us around noon. And it didn't stop. Although the conditions were bad, I think we had any injuries. Anyway I didn't see anyone pull up."

Belleville managed to edge Salem by 16 points to finish atop of a 11-team field. The Tigers garnered 89 points to Salem's 73. Following the top two teams, in order, were Romulus (48), Livonia Churchill (41 1/2), Saline (34), Wyandotte (35), Taylor Truman (30), defending champ Plymouth-Canton (27), Livonia Stevenson (25), Garden City (18) and Walled Lake Central (16).

Belleville also produced five first-places. Senior sprinter Curtis Lunsford picked up a gold medal in the 100-meter dash as he turned in a winning time of 10.9.

The Tigers also had the best 800-meter team in the field with Darnell Slayton, Ian Gold, Chris Cannon and Machia Coats who finished in 1:32.7, beating Romulus' foursome of Lajaun Wilson, Maurice Franklin, Thomas Taylor and Phillip Franklin to the wire. The silver went to the Eagles for their 1:32.8 effort.

Taylor Truman finished third (1:34.0) for the event.

Belleville also had the No. 1 400-meter relay thanks to the efforts of Slayton, Gold, Cannon and John Snead who were clocked in 45.1. Again the Tigers beat neighboring rival, Romulus, to the wire. Coach Norb Glover's foursome included Tom Taylor, Lajuan Wilson, Maurice Hatcher and Phillip Franklin. They finished in 45.2, a step back.

Salem was turn in the event with Miller, Savalkink, Casey and Coburn, who toured the 400 in 45.9.

Belleville's 1,600 meter relay team also brought home a gold as Kevin Robinson, Russell Stewart, Coats and Lunsford had the best time of 3:35.3. They held off the foursome from Salem - Polcyn,

Tigers are undefeated in league

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Belleville track coach Dave Medley may know in the next two weeks what his team's chances are to win the inaugural Mega Conference Red Division championship.

The Tigers are scheduled to meet Monroe on the home turf Thursday, and the Trojans are one of two teams picked during the pre-season to win the title. The other favorite is Dearborn, a perennial track and field powerhouse in this area.

Coming off of a one-sided 104-24 victory over Wayne Memorial on Thursday and winning their own track relays on Saturday, Belleville is gearing up for the showdown, according to Medley.

"Monroe and Dearborn, teams we will meet in the next two weeks, will be good tests for us," said Medley. "We'll have a pretty good indication where we stand after these meets."

Battling the elements as well as time, some 11 area teams participated on Saturday in the fifth annual Tiger Relays, hosted by Belleville High School. The host managed to win the invitational, edging Plymouth-Salem for the team championship. In the women's division, Saline finished on top. After hammering Cougars Tigers drop 2 close ones

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Belleville High School players could have used some of the runs they scored last Monday against Garden City later in the week.

Coach John Bertz's Tigers hammered Garden City, 16-0, then saw their modest three-game winning streak come to an abrupt end as Lincoln Park edged them, 8-7, in a Mega Conference Red Division game.

Belleville failed to recover from the loss to coach Tom Nolan and the Railsplitters. The Tigers also dropped a 2-1 decision to Wyandotte, and saw their hopes of retaining the Ann Arbor Pioneer Invitational title shatter as Saline came out on top of an 8-6 verdict on Saturday.

"We made some stupid mistakes that proved costly," said Bertz. "The good news is that our pitching remains solid; our defense is suspect."

On Saturday, Belleville rallied for four runs in the top of the sixth but fell short against Saline, 8-6. The loss removed the Tigers from the championship round of the invitational they won a year ago.

Jason Garland, who worked the first three innings before giving up the ball to reliever Rodney Komaromi, was charged with the loss. Winning pitcher Tim James was in control until the sixth when he was tagged for the four runs.

- Belleville coach John Bertz

Belleville batter Ralph Truitt hammered a pair of homers off of James to lead the seven-hit assault. Teammate Pat Wilkerson collected two hits, both singles, and had an RBI.

Wyandotte scored two runs in the bottom of the fifth and hung on to defeat the Tigers, 2-1, in a Red Division game. Truitt again was the victim of a shabby defense - Belleville committed four miscues. The Tiger hurler gave up a total of four hits, fanned seven and walked three in digesting the loss.

In the top of the seventh, Belleville was poised to pull it out as winning pitcher Ron Porter walked Truitt, who advanced to second on an errant pick-off attempt. With one-away, Charlie Way singled Truitt home, then Doug Walters also walked.

Ouch! Glenn bats suddenly go silent

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Suddenly and inexplicably, John Glenn High School bats have gone silent.

Glenn, ranked among the top Class A teams in the state and the Western Lakes Conference pre-season title favorite, was jolted last week by Plymouth-Salem and Livonia Churchill.

The two Rocket losses blurred the conference title picture.

"We just didn't get the hits when we needed them," said Glenn coach Norm Hoenes. "Our pitchers did their job - we did not get the hitting."

Plymouth-Salem removed Glenn from the top of the conference standing with a 3-1 victory over the Rockets as right-hander Monsella Marcellus tossed a four-hitter, struck out seven and walked one for the victory.

Marcellus gave up a bottom of the fourth solo homer to Bryan Besco, who also took the loss - his first of the year.

Besco notched nine strikeouts and walked none and was the victim of a couple of errors that led to the Rockets' three runs in the sixth.

Churchill erupted for three runs in the bottom of the sixth to hand Brian Morrison his first loss, 4-2, in a crossover game. The Rockets committed two fatal errors that opened the door to the unearned runs.

Morrison was tagged for seven hits, struck out six and walked none, while his counterpart, Tom Tomassi, scattered three Glenn hits, whiffed six and walked one for the victory.

On Monday, Jerome Cosby made Glenn history by drilling three homers in one game to lead the Rockets to a 10-3 victory over Walled Lake Central.

Cosby blasted a leadoff homer over the left fielder's head in the first inning, then connected again to the same spot in the second and had a solo blast in the sixth. He also fouled one that had home run written all over it but was in foul territory by about three feet.

Wayne holds off Monroe to end 2-game losing skid

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Wayne Memorial High School reliever Shannon Greene put down a last-inning Monroe rally to help Wayne end a two-game losing streak, 8-6.

The victory boosted the Wayne record in the first-year Mega Conference Red Division to 4-2. The Zebras are 5-5 overall on the year.

Coach Jim Chronowski started pitcher Scott Wetmore, who worked the first six innings and had a 8-4 lead going into the bottom of the seventh when Monroe scored one run and loaded the bases with no outs.

Chronowski removed the tiring Wetmore, who left the game with the bases loaded and no outs. Chronowski called for Shannon Greene, who then walked the first batter he faced, forcing in the second run of the inning. Greene got the final three outs - two of them by a double play with the Wayne pitcher playing a pivotal role.

After a fly out, Greene cut off a throw to the plate and tossed out the runner sliding into second. He struck out the third batter he faced to preserve the game for Wetmore and Wayne. Greene also contributed a leadoff homer in the fifth, doubled in two runs in a four-run fourth and scored twice. Teammate Jason Overton also had a pair of hits, including a seventh-inning homer and a single.

Monroe starter Chad Hill also wasn't around at the end. He departed in the sixth for reliever John McDonald.

Wayne received a single and double from Steve Duckett, who also scored twice. Phil Snow chipped in two hits and Aaron Cagnon's base hit chased home on Wayne run in the sixth that gave the Zebras the lead for good.

Southgate Anderson on Wednesday jumped on Greene for three runs in the first inning and went on to jolt Wayne 8-1 in their first Red Division meeting. Wayne helped in the demise. The Zebras turned in their worst performance on defense this season as they committed six errors.

"I had to make some changes in the infield," said Chronowski. "Unfortunately, the kids couldn't adjust."

With Chronowski sidelined for one game because of disputing a call against Wyandotte, the Zebras lost a 5-3 decision to arch-rival, Lincoln Park, last week.

Rockets fade in the track pack

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Once considered the frontrunner, Westland John Glenn's track fortunes have taken a turn for the worst.

The Rockets were shot down last week, 83-54, by Farmington.

The Glenn loss dipped its record to 2-2 in the Western Lakes Conference and left them in the middle of the pack.

"We needed some people to step up their performances a notch or two," said Glenn coach Jess Slough. "Unfortunately, it didn't happen."

The Rockets made a rush at Farmington and came within six points of erasing the deficit. But Farmington finished 1-2 in the 100-meters and also in the mile to seal the victory.

The Westlanders captured nine of the 17 events with Shawn Arbogast and Todd Peterson carding two wins apiece. Arbogast's put of 47 feet, 1 inch was tops for the shot put event. He also won the discus with a toss of 120 feet, 11 inches.

Peterson cleared the high hurdles in 16:07 and the 300-meter intermediate hurdles in 43.8 for a sweep in those events.

Jason Baker stopped at 5 feet, 6 to win the high jump competition while John Porter cleared 9 feet, 6 inches for his victory in the pole vault. Shamar Lott crossed the finish line first in the 400-meter (52.5) dash and Jason Olewnik was clocked in the winning time of 2:11.2 for the 800-meter.

Slough put together a foursome of Torrance Walker, Mark Fixler, Phil Allen and Charles Bailey to win the 400-meter relay in 51.0.

The Rockets will attempt to rebound from their second loss at the expense of Livonia Stevenson. Glenn will host the Spartans at 3:30 p.m. on Thursday for their next divisional meet.

A grassroots forum on methods to decrease both youth violence and gang activity stressed the need for a community coalition to seek positive actions for youth, as well as more parental and much less political involvement in the effort.

The forum that attracted more than 60 law enforcement, judicial and educational representatives from Inkster, Wayne, Westland and Romulus heard 18th District Court Judge Gail McKnight, Youth Officers Scott Hall of Westland and Ron New of Inkster and Allen Park Prosecutor Debra Green outline some overviews on youth problems and solutions.

Representatives from Dearborn Heights, Southgate, Northville and Garden City also attended.

After hearing the initial talks, those in attendance joined smaller groups to discuss youth issues, turned in written reports and took part in a re-convened total group session to conclude the three-hour forum that was conducted at the new Wayne-Westland Salvation Army Headquarters on Venoy Road in Westland.

“While gang violence makes headlines, gang members create even more damage on a regular basis for local property and business owners.”

- Elizabeth A. Longley

This was the second such youth activity forum conducted in recent months by the Community Housing and Neighborhood Growth Exchange (CHANGE). The earlier one was conducted for the Rouge, Allen Park, Melvindale, Lincoln Park and Ecorse area.

Elizabeth A. Longley, a CHANGE spokeswoman, said, “The cornerstone of the program is a no-nonsense approach to youth violence and gang activity.”

Longley said a full-scale report on the small group discussions will be mailed to all participants in the next month.

She explained that at the Rouge area meeting it was urged that a member of the Wayne County Prosecutor’s Office and local police meet to better coordinate local ordinances, so that local municipalities offer a united front against law breakers.

“When criminal ordinances differ greatly in neighboring

United community action is critical today to stem youth violence, Longley said. “While gang violence makes headlines, gang members create even more damage on a regular basis for local property and business owners,” Longley explained.

The forum also dealt with practical approaches to battling the graffiti problem, vandalism of abandoned and occupied homes and the loss of business in shopping areas that gang members frequent.

The forums are only starting points, Longley said, but hopefully will serve as a community planning tool to stimulate action in Wayne County.

Further information can be obtained by contacting Longley at 313-383-4660.

Ypsilanti hands Romulus a tourney setback

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Rains washed out three of four Romulus baseball games last week, and coach Don Foley probably may have also wished that the Saturday tournament game with Ypsilanti had gone down the drain.

It didn’t.

“We should have rescheduled that one, too,” said Foley after the Braves handed the Eagles a 8-3 setback. The loss left the Eagles winless at

Foley and the Eagles will return to the Ann Arbor Pioneer tournament on Saturday when they will play a 9 a.m. game with Belleville. Then, at noon, Romulus will square off with Ypsilanti Lincoln in the fourth and final invitational game. The two encounters will be staged on the Willow Run High School diamond.

Ypsilanti erupted for three runs in the opening inning off of starter, Jesse Flores, one of three Romulus pitchers who gave up a total of 11 hits. Flores worked the first 4 1/3 innings, gave way to Mike Deaton, who lasted all of 1/3 of an inning before Dan Czajkowski took over and finished up.

After winning pitcher Brett Pennington was touched for one run in the first inning, he shut the Eagles out until the fifth when Romulus struck for a single run. The Eagles got their third and final run in the Lincoln Park broke a three-all tie with two runs in the bottom of the sixth off of Overton, who took the loss. Overton replaced starter Wetmore who pitched 2 1/3 innings and left the game trailing 2-1.

Wayne and Lincoln Park exchanged single runs in the first inning, then the Railsplitters grabbed a 2-1 lead in the third. But Wayne came back and took a 3-2 edge in the fourth. Lincoln Park tied it in the fifth, then won the game with the two-run surge in the sixth.

Each team pounded out eight hits. Wayne got a single, double and two RBIs from Phil Snow, while Overton and freshman Clark Boston each laced two singles.

Wayne and Belleville were scheduled to meet for the first time in the Mega Conference on Monday. Then, today, the Zebras will travel to Garden City. On Friday, Wayne will have the day off as seniors celebrate at the prom.

Belleville’s Machia Coats and Eric Szyndler were the top performers in the high jump competition (11 feet, 8).

Romulus received a sterling performance from its long jump relay team of Rodney Smith, Lajuan Wilson and Jamal McCain who combined for 58 feet, 6 1/2 inches. Belleville was runnerup in the event thanks to Charles McKinney, John Snead and Damon Lee (54 feet, 3 1/2). Walled Lake Central went home with the bronze medal.

Glover said he was disappointed in the overall performance of his team. He brushed aside the elements as an excuse for the effort.

Glover added that he had “faith in the kids. I know that they will do better.”

In the meantime, Saline surfaced as the winner of the women’s division. Saline collected 87 points to beat out a field that also included Livonia Churchill (79), Wyandotte (71), Belleville (43), Romulus (37), Ypsilanti (36), Taylor Truman (14), Plymouth-Salem (14), Walled Lake Central (13) and Garden City (7).

In the meantime, Belleville’s women’s team broke a two-meet losing streak at the expense of Wayne Memorial. The Tigers produced six individual winners in the 69-57 victory over the Zebras.

Manda Ryan tossed the discus 74 feet to stash that event in the Tiger win column while Jamie Koren ran a 6:30 for a first-place in the mile. Aggie Pack crossed the finish line first in the 400-meter dash (1:10) and Megan Sanders turned in a 56.3 for the low hurdles.

Belleville also received a winning performance from Laurie Painter, who was clocked in 2:57 for the 800-meters and Tammy Pietrowski continued to prove that she’s one of the best distance runners in the area. She hit the tape for the 3,200-meters first in 14:15.

'Gift of reading' drive winds down

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
News Editor

While donations of children's books are still being collected for the "Gift of Reading" drive, the June deadline for contributions is approaching.

Since the book drive began, two large boxes of books have been collected, and the goal of the drive is to collect two additional boxes of books before the drive ends.

Individuals who wish to donate children's books to the Inkster Literacy Council-Associated Newspaper joint project should bring their books to the newspaper office at 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne, before June 1.

"We'd like to get these books into the hands of the Head Start children so that they can begin to read them this summer," said Selenia Robinson, project coordinator.

"Although our focus has been to collect books for Head Start pupils, we are also accepting children's books for older students. Those books will be distributed to children in elementary schools in Inkster," said Tom Mooradian, Inkster Ledger-Star staff writer.

Books do not have to be new, but should be in good condition, the project sponsors said.

Robinson also is seeking additional tutors for the literacy program.

"It is very gratifying to be able to help someone to read," Robinson said. "We often have a waiting list of people seeking tutors."

"Some people want to learn basic skills - reading, writing, adding and subtracting. They may have jobs and managed to get by without reading, but they know their lives would be better if they could read - they are survivors," Robinson said. "Some of the people want to learn to read the Bible, while others want to be able to read the newspapers. We work with their interests. They dictate the program to us, and we follow it."

"We will accept applications from individuals who wish to begin tutoring in the fall," she said.

Individuals who have books suitable for pre-school pupils or elementary school children may bring them to the newspaper office during regular business hours. Those who wish to volunteer as tutors may call 721-8080 or visit the literacy center at 29807 Parkwood in Inkster.

Basic training

Schools offer obedience classes to pets

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
News Editor

Yes, you can teach an old dog new tricks.

If you have any doubts, check with veteran dog trainer Lila Warner.

"It may take a little more time and patience, but you can train an old dog," Warner said.

Currently, she is teaching a class in dog obedience at the Van Buren Public Schools. The class will begin a session on May 10.

"It may take a little more time and patience, but you can train an old dog."

- Lila Warner

Warner has four decades of experience in teaching dog obedience classes, but began her interest in animal training many years prior to that.

"When I was eight years old

I helped my grandfather train horses, but I grew out of that," said Warner. "I started training dogs in 1954, and now that I'm retired, I keep a pretty full schedule with obedience training classes."

In her current class, Warner has a four-pound Pomeranian, a 125-pound Great Pyrenees and various sizes and shapes of dogs in between.

She learned her skills from a mentor who trained a troupe of nine to 15 Dalmatians and also learned from a German trainer whose methods she no longer uses because "they were quick, but harsh."

The formula for successful training is a mixture of patience and love, she said.

"It's the same as for training a child. If you have patience and love, they'll follow the right path," Warner said. "Not all dogs are equal when it comes to training. The herding and working breeds are easier to train, and the hunting dogs usually have other things on their mind. For example, if you have a basset hound, it may take you twice as long to teach him, unless he's a genius."

"However, there are always exceptions to the rule. I have a 14-year-old Irish setter who was trained to respond to hand signals. When he was younger, I would bring him to classes with me to show what a well-trained dog can do," Warner said.

"After completing the first four-week session, a person can compete in the companion dog competition in shows. I'm looking forward to attending a show at Domino Farms where I hope to see some of my former students with their dogs," she said.

An animal lover, Warner has a Doberman, an Irish setter, five birds and a cat, "but no fish."

Individuals who want additional information on the obedience training may contact the Van Buren Public Schools Community Education office at 697-9123.

FIVE GUYS NAMED MOE

Dance celebration

Detroit native stars in Tony-award winning musical

It's a musical production that keeps audience members' feet tapping and hands clapping.

Five Guys Named Moe is at the Fisher Theatre through May 15. The Cameron Mackintosh production incorporates song and dance featuring the music of 1940s jazz great Louis Jordan.

The Tony-award-winning show includes a talented cast featuring Detroit native Doug Eskew (Big Moe), Jeffrey Polk (Little Moe), Kevyn Brackett (Eat Moe), Keith Tyrone (No Moe) and Milton Craig Nealy (Four-Eyed Moe).

Moe takes the audience into the life of a man who has just broken up with his girlfriend, according to Eskew.

"He's listening to the radio, and while he is listening, he hears one of Louis Jordan's songs Let The Good Times Roll," Eskew said. "All of a sudden, these five guys named Moe jump out of the radio and sing various songs to give pros and cons on how this guy can get back together with his girlfriend."

There are approximately 29 songs by Jordan in this production which include Caledonia, Messy Bessy and Is You Is Or Is You Ain't Ma Baby?

"This is the kind of production that lifts you up, and by the time the curtain closes, you are singing the songs as you leave the theater," Eskew said.

Raised in the Detroit area, Eskew has always had a love for the theater. Even when he was attending Pershing High School, his passion to entertain lured him to act in various school productions.

"When I attended Michigan State University, I majored in business, but I minored in theater," Eskew said.

It was in 1980 when Eskew got his big break for stardom. He was working at the National Bank of Detroit when he heard of auditions being conducted for Ain't Misbehavin at the Fisher Theatre.

"I just went and auditioned," Eskew said. "I never thought I would get a role. With Ain't Misbehavin I was fortunate enough to also be selected for the role in the world tour of the production.

"We toured 12 countries in Europe. I was involved with Ain't Misbehavin off and on for 10 years."

Eskew recently was seen on Broadway in Truly Blessed, a musical celebration of Mahalia Jackson. Off-Broadway he appeared in The Balm Yard and Black Nativity.

Touring credits include Sing, Mahalia, Black Nativity, Wrinkles, Conrack and Andre Heller's Body and Soul.

The veteran actor was also featured in the television pilot Sylvia starring Ruth Brown and Maurice Hines.

"I really enjoy the theater," Eskew said. "I like both aspects of television and the stage. With the theater you get to recreate the role every night. With television, however, you do less in terms of acting and get more money."

In the near future Eskew would like to try his hand at writing his own production either for stage or for the movies.

"I enjoy writing," Eskew said. "My ultimate goal would be to produce and direct my own movie one day. Right now I'm just enjoying what I do on stage."

Eskew said he returns to Detroit at least once a year to visit his family and friends. He now lives in New York.

Brackett is a native of Florida. He has been seen in stage productions of My One and Only with Tommy Tune and Sandy Duncan in The Tap Dance Kid.

He has also sung back-up for Marilyn McCoo and recently finished singing with Barry Manilow as a featured performer in his tour de force Showstoppers.

Nealy was seen on Broadway in Once On This Island in which he created the role of Agwe, God of Water. In 1990, he toured the country as Judas in the 20th anniversary production of Jesus Christ Superstar.

He can be seen in the film The Blues Brothers and heard on various radio jingles.

Polk's credits include My One and Only, A Chorus Line, Hello Dolly, On The Town, Jesus Christ Superstar, 42nd Street and Porgy and Bess.

He choreographed Little Shop of Horrors for the Long Beach Civic Light Opera.

Tyrone recently toured the U.S. with Sarah Brightman in The Music Of Andrew Lloyd Webber In Concert, performing the role of Jesus and Gus, the Theatre Cat.

He also appeared in Starlight Express, The Black Magic Revue, Hair and Legs Diamond.

Five Guys Named Moe originated in London. It opened on Broadway in 1992.

Tickets are now on sale at the Fisher Theatre box office and all TicketMaster outlets. To charge by phone call (810)645-6666.

Residents share celebrations

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
News Editor

When western Wayne County residents blow out the candles on their birthday cakes this month, they will be sharing their special day with famous singers, actors, sports heroes and historical figures. Celebrating his birthday on the first day of May is Associated Newspapers President David Willett of Westland, who observes his birthday on the same day that singer Kate Smith was born.

On May 3, Shawn and Shari Ferguson will celebrate their birthdays - the same day that boxer Sugar Ray Robinson and Israeli political leader Golda Meir were born.

Just four days later, their niece, Kaitlyn Ferguson, and Ted Solo of Romulus will celebrate their birthdays. Ted and Kaitlyn share their May 7 birthdays with actor Gary Cooper and poet Robert Browning.

Celebrating her birthday on May 10 is Pauline Hargis of Romulus.

May is also the birth month of such notables as children's medical specialist Dr. Benjamin Spock and singer Bing Crosby, May 2; singer Tammy Wynette and actor Tyrone Power, May 5, and former President Harry Truman and actress Melissa Gilbert, May 8.

Born on May 9 were actor Albert Finney and newsman Mike Wallace. Composer Irving Berlin and comedian Phil Silvers share a May 11 birthday.

Famous nursing pioneer Florence Nightengale and baseball star Yogi Berra were born May 12 and boxing champion Joe Louis was born May 13.

Other May birthday are: actor James Mason, May 15, pianist-entertainer Liberace, May 16; singer Cher, May 20, actor Raymond Burr, May 21; Queen Victoria and singer-composer Bob Dylan, May 24; singer Al Jolson and film star John Wayne, May 26; former Fitness first Business offers ways to win in the 'battle of the bulge'

BY LAURIE HUMPHREY
ANP Staff Writer

Tired of hiding behind a beach towel every time you go to the pool and fed up with all the weight loss gimmicks?

Lorraine Hayes, owner of The Winning Way in Canton Township, understands these feelings because she was there.

"I have been battling a weight problem all my life," she said, "but I found my answer in this product and I want to help other people, too."

Through a variety of First Fitness nutritional, health and weight-loss products, Hayes lost 65 pounds without exercising or dieting last May and kept it off.

A skeptic, Hayes took all the products to her doctor before using them to verify the safety and weight loss effects.

"In my opinion, it sounded too good to be true," she said, "but it's not."

Hayes was not the only one to notice the changes in her weight. In fact, after co-workers saw the positive effects in her appearance, attitude and health, they became her first customers.

"My clients include the young and the old, both men and woman," Hayes said. "And everyone is seeing the same results I did. It's such an easy thing to do."

Providing health products to the public for more than a year, Hayes said business has been wonderful. She and her husband, Reggie, open their 42398 Edenbrooke house to clientele from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. seven days a week.

Hayes, trained to market and distribute the products, believes First Fitness offers a better option than the competition.

"A lot of our products have anti-aging ingredients. They're affordable, natural and safe," she said. "If people want to look great and feel great, they should come see us. And we offer a 100-percent money back guarantee if they are not satisfied."

According to Hayes, the hottest items have been the Ultra Fit Weight Loss System and TNT (tone and tightening) cream. She suspects however, that a newly-developed cream which firms the bustling will be an instant success when it debuts in June.

For a limited time, VIP card holders can receive a free product sample with any purchase. Call 981-0044 for more information or a free consultation.

Cooper's Appliance offers nearly new appliances like these at bargain prices.

ing to replace faulty appliances but are on a strict budget.

Cooper's Reconditioned Appliances offers an alternative to the high-priced appliance store. In the business of reconditioned air conditioners, washers/dryers, stoves, microwaves and more, consumers can pick up what they need for 60-percent less at 1912 Venoy Road, at Palmer in the Palace Supermarket strip mall.

"We also offer a warranty on our appliances," said owner Mark Cooper. "We stand behind everything we sell."

Cooper and two employees cater to customers Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Fridays and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays, by buying used appliances and "putting them in good working order."

They also make $18.50 service calls, offer delivery and will pick up any old appliances.

Cooper, a General Motors employee for almost 20 years, bought his shop from a previous owner more than a year ago in pursuit of the American dream of owning his own business. Although business has been good, he expects it will increase once people see he is offering a 10-percent discount to VIP card holders.

Gas stoves have been the most popular items, said Cooper. "In fact we can't even keep them in."

Also topping the popularity list are dryers, beginning at $99, during the fall season and refrigerators starting at $129 for the spring and summer.

Of Note

Woman foils abduction attempt

Fast with her feet, a 47-year-old Garden City woman managed to elude a would-be kidnapper Wednesday night.

Linda Shower told police that she had stopped for a red light at the Cherry Hill and Inkster Road intersection when a man in a car pulled alongside of her vehicle.

The man, described as having blond hair and being around 5-feet, 9-inches tall, looked over at her, then lunged at her and attempted to pull her out of her vehicle, Shower told Inkster police.

Shower told police that she immediately pressed down on the gas pedal and drove off, leaving the culprit in her wake.

Shower said that she believed that the suspect's vehicle was an "older model, possibly a Mustang and orange in color."

The incident occurred around 10:30 p.m.

Anyone who has any information about the driver of the vehicle is urged to contact the Inkster Police Department by dialing 563-9850.

Lottery bandits waive hearing

A Taylor man and woman waived their preliminary hearing in 34th District Court Wednesday on the charge they robbed workers in two Romulus service stations of cash and a large supply of lottery tickets.

The pair were nabbed by Romulus police on April 25 after a determined and sharp-eyed woman witnessed one of the holdups at the Speedway Service Station at Wayne and Wick roads, called 9-1-1 and then followed the getaway car until police halted it on I-94.

Judge William Szlinis remanded the unarmed robbery charges against David R. Barron, 37, and Bonnie L. Borgh, to the Frank Murphy Hall of Justice at 9 a.m. May 18.

Alzheimers patient reported missing

Richard Edwin Huntley was reported missing to local police April 5 from the Canton Crossings Apartment complex.

According to authorities, the 72-year-old Alzheimers patient had been missing since 11 a.m. that morning. He is carrying no money or identification, authorities said.

Huntley was last seen wearing a blue down jacket over a tan jacket, tan pants and tan shoes. Police have received information he may have wandered Interstate 275 at Ford Road.

The man's wife suspects he may be trying to get to his home town of New Jersey.

Huntley, described as 6-feet, 4-inches tall, weighing 155 pounds, is the subject of an area-wide search involving surrounding police, businesses and the media.

13 lose vehicles in police drug 'sting'

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Some 13 local and area residents are without their vehicles this week, and they can blame themselves for it.

The vehicles were seized by Inkster narcotics units who made controlled buys and reverse buys from the alleged drug users who mistook police officers for drug dealers.

One suspect, caught in one of the sweeps, is a 36-year-old Southgate man who apparently got suspicious of the merchandise and sped away only to be apprehended by a backup unit.

While the suspect was in the Henry and Pine street areas Monday night, the Southgate resident reportedly picked the wrong guy to ask for drugs. According to an Inkster police report, the suspect produced $60 and asked the agent for cocaine and was about to exchange the funds for the merchandise when he changed his mind.

The would-be drug seeker took off in his vehicle, but not before the agent backup unit caught up to him.

The suspect was released after he received forfeiture papers for his vehicle. He will be in court on Wednesday to tell the judge his side of the story.

A would-be drug dealer who resides in the 29000 block of Glenwood also discovered that he was dealing with the wrong man when he apparently asked: "What do you need, baby?"

The would-be drug dealer didn't know he was dealing with a cop. After the officer said "a 20," and exchanged the suspected drugs for the marked $20 bill, the suspect was arrested for allegedly selling a controlled substance.

Inkster police confiscated vehicles during the sweeps in the target areas of Springhill, Helen, Glenwood and Parkwood in the southeast quadrant of the city.

The sweeps were carried out in conjunction with the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office "Push Off" program. The program, "Pushers Use the Streets and Highways, Opt for Forfeiture", allows law enforcement agencies to confiscate vehicles that are used during illegal drug purchases.

Inkster Police Chief Terry Colwell said he had a message for those who would come to the city for drugs.

Mother's Day 5 generations celebrate holiday

By JENNIFER PLACINTO

There will be quite a crowd celebrating Mother's Day this year with Mary Burns, 88, of Westland.

With the birth two months ago of her first great-great-granddaughter, Burns' family grew to include five grandchildren, six great-grandchildren and her newest descendant.

"I'm so proud to have lived long enough to have a fifth generation in my family. I never thought I'd see that day," Burns said.

Remembering her own childhood, Burns said the most important lesson her mother taught her was, "If you can't say good things of anyone, don't say anything at all."

"I tried to pass on to my two children what my parents taught me," Burns added.

Burns' daughter, Betty Krachie, 65, is the manager of Stevenson Junior High School cafeteria and has three grown children. Krachie, who is the great-grandmother of the newborn, said her mother taught her the importance of family.

"So far we're all still together, which is very rare nowadays," Krachie said.

Krachie's daughter, Cathy Broge, 45, works for the City of Wayne Parks and Recreation Department and just recently be-

Explosive vapors found in sewer

Westland firefighters are investigating an explosive substance found in the sanitary sewer system near Dove Cleaners, a dry cleaning store located in the Westland Crossings strip on Warren and Wayne roads, Westland Fire Battalion Chief Mark Neal said.

The Wayne County Hazardous Materials Response Team (HAZMAT) was called in to investigate a vapor which read at explosive levels Thursday afternoon when Westland Department of Public Service (DPS) workers were flushing the sanitary sewer system next to a store, located at 34524 Warren Road, according to Neal.

"Department of Public Service workers went in there to get it out. They stirred it up and caused the vapor to rise up out of the hole, which produced an odor," Neal said.

Some 32 Westland firefighters, DPS and HAZMAT workers were evacuated from the cordoned off area when HAZMAT officials determined the explosive level to be 23 percent, which, Neal said, exceeds the safety level of workers.

The HAZMAT team extracted samples from the sewer system which shows it could be a dry cleaning solvent known as Perchloroethylene, commonly referred to as PERC in the industry, according to Neal.

When officials entered the dry cleaners they found the PERC substance improperly stored and owners could not produce any records of the disposal of the waste, according to Neal.

"The owner couldn't tell us who picked up the stuff or where it's gone. It caused us concern," Neal said. "This kind of chemical shouldn't be sitting around. It needs to be gotten rid of more often."

The chlorinated substance will be tested by HAZMAT officials to determine the exact nature of the chemical and, according to Neal, if the chemical is found to be a dry cleaning solution, agencies such as the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and the Michigan Department of Public Health - Dry Cleaning Division may issue fines for the dumping.

"As far as we know, no dry cleaners (across the country) have ever been accused or caught dumping," Neal added.

Meanwhile, Dove Cleaners remains open for business, however, clothes will be dry cleaned at another facility until the investigation is completed, Neal said.

Westland firefighters clear the area near Dove Cleaners at Warren and Wayne roads while a hazardous chemical was cleared from the sewers in the area. The investigation into the source of the explosive material is continuing. ANP photo by Jim McGill

Police nab suspected serial robber

A 59-year-old Livonia resident, charged with larceny over $100 in Westland, an unarmed robbery in Livonia and three larcenies in Redford, was bound over to Detroit Recorder's Court for trial Thursday.

Gregg Steven Hufeld is being held on a $50,000 cash bond for the Westland and Livonia crimes and a total of $150,000 cash in Redford.

Hufeld was arrested by Livonia police on April 19 after allegedly committing a larceny at the Dandy Oil/Marathon Oil gas station, located at 31425 Ann Arbor Trail in Westland and an unarmed robbery at a Dunkin' Donuts, located at 19010 Middlebelt Road in Livonia later that same evening, according to Westland police Sgt. Donald Haigh. Hufeld was placed in a line-up and identified in connection with the Westland robbery and three crimes in Redford.

The Westland incident occurred around 12:15 a.m. when the perpetrator entered the store and asked the clerk for change. When the employee opened the cash register, the thief reached across the counter and grabbed some $10 bills from the register, Haigh said.

The Livonia robbery occurred around 3 a.m. with the assailant entering the location three times, according to Livonia police Sgt. Ken Marlow. The first time, the man entered and asked for change to use the phone.

"The lady gave him the money, then he didn't use it (phone). He left and came back in 10 minutes later," Marlow said.

The second time, the man asked what the price of some doughnuts were and the final time, he bought some doughnuts and when the cashier opened the register, he reached in and grabbed $72, Marlow said.

The clerk called police and officers found a man, meeting the clerk's description of the thief, in a car that had been reported as taken without permission, Marlow said.

"He was arrested on probable cause and he confessed to the robbery," Marlow said.

Hufeld was charged with three counts of larceny of a person for the Redford crimes which occurred at Dairy Mart, located on the corner of 5 Mile and Beech Daly, Tubby's sub shop, at West Chicago and Telegraph roads and Baskin Robbins on Joy and Beech Daly, according to Redford police Lt. Paul Whiting. The crimes occurred in March and early April and Hufeld was bound over on all charges.

Advice

my mother gave me

Area residents recall mothers' words of wisdom

One of the things that Janet Millard remembers most about her youth is that her mother always had bits of advice for her.

"She was forever sending me clippings from the newspapers to warn me about dangers," said Millard, who is executive secretary of the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

If she could pick out a bad piece of advice, Millard would name an instance when her mother warned her about something she knew nothing about.

"I lived on campus at Eastern Michigan University, and my mother always had warnings for me. One day, she sent me a clipping about the dangers of LSD with a note on the top that read, 'Don't ever do this.' Well, I had never heard of LSD, and I didn't even know what it was," Millard said. "I teased my mother later that, if I ever tried the drug, it would be because she was the one who told me about it."

Millard said her mother warned her not to drink anyone's beverage or take a puff from anyone's cigarette, because "they may have put 'something' in it."

Millard said she has a long list of well-intentioned warnings that her mother gave her during her youth, and appreciates the thoughtfulness of her mother's advice.

Donna Hall of Donna Hall and Associates of Belleville remembers her mother giving her the traditional piece of advice that all mothers gave their children in the past several generations: "Don't go out of the house without clean underwear, because you might get into an accident."

"I'm sure she gave me a lot of other advice, but I just can't recall it," Hall said. "I still wonder about why mothers were so concerned about underwear in the event of an accident."

Several women who were given the same piece of advice noted that they hoped hospital personnel would be more concerned about treating their injuries than the condition of their clothing.

Bob O'Keefe of Van Buren Township said his father was the advice giver in the family.

"He was straight and square. I'm accused of being the same way, and I guess that I learned from his influence. I don't recall any special bit of advice, but I do know that I learned to read a lot, listen a lot and to associate with people who were as smart or smarter than I," O'Keefe said. "That's the kind of advice that I would pass along to others."

Senator confirms retirement after 28 years

Michigan State Senator William Faust has formally announced his decision not to seek re-election to office in 1995.

Faust, 65, has served as an area elected official for more than 28 years.

Often referred to as the "Dean of the Senate," Faust presently represents the 13th District which includes Canton Township, Woodhaven, Westland, Wayne, Van Buren, Brownstown, Sumpter and Huron townships, Romulus, Rockwood, Flat Rock and Belleville.

Faust earlier said he would retire to allow "new blood" to step into his senate seat.

Faust began his political career as a former Nankin Township trustee and supervisor. When the township began to merge into the surrounding communities which later became Westland, Faust was advised by his supporters to become involved in government at the state level.

"I had the opportunity to serve as a majority leader. I re-organized the senate rules, passed 150 bills and wrote on constitutional amendment."

State Sen. William Faust

Faust admits that his interest in education and background led him to his interest in perpetual learning and education. He is a graduate of Indiana University and earning a degree in business administration from the University of Michigan in 1952. He pursued a graduate degree at Eastern Michigan University.

It was during his campaign for the state senate seat in 1966 that Faust was involved in an automobile accident which left him confined to a wheelchair. Undeterred, he continued his pursuit of the political office.

"It was an especially difficult time for me. I was literally elected from a hospital bed. I didn't have to worry about my problems—I had other things to worry about," Faust said.

Some of Faust's projects during his tenure include his authorship of 150 state bills and one constitutional amendment, which allows legislature to be sued. He is involved in the regulation of timber so that natural resources continue to serve Michigan, he said. And he is involved in the reduction of sentencing requirements of first-time, non-violent offenders.

During his final months in the senate, Faust said he will be working to introduce legislation which requires that public hearing notices be published in all local newspapers, probing into missing funds and questionable fiscal practices of employees and former employees of the 34th District Court in Romulus and attempting to help citizens understand the ramifications of the March 15 state sales tax proposal.

Faust has served as the vice-chairman of the Commerce, Corporations and Economic Development and Technology and Energy committees and said he thoroughly enjoyed his terms as senator.

"I enjoyed it. It has always been a challenge—there is always something new," he said.

The Westland Democrat was elected as Senate Majority Leader in 1984 and cites that term as one of his most rewarding experiences.

"I had the opportunity to serve as a majority leader. I reorganized the senate rules, passed 150 bills and wrote one constitutional amendment," Faust said.

State Sen. William Faust

Faust was instrumental in starting a state museum and procuring a grant for libraries in Wayne and Westland. One of Faust's best experiences as a senator was being thanked for his assistance with elderly residents' medical needs.

"On a personal level, the best experience was having an elderly woman from Sumpter Township ask if I was Faust," he said. When he told her he was, indeed, Faust, she smiled and told him that because of his efforts she had a new set of false teeth, he recalled.

The senator's father was one of his greatest influences in Lansing, helping him get on with his life after the automobile accident and staying involved in his son's career, Faust said.

Faust had only a few words of advice to the next senator from the 13th district.

"Like people and want to help them both individually and the whole population. Then let the specific interests in your own area take over."

Supervisor seeks term as Democrat

Township clerk is Republican hopeful

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
News Editor

Van Buren Township Supervisor David Jakoces

When State Senator William Faust confirmed rumors earlier this week that he will not seek re-election, Van Buren Township Supervisor David Jakoces announced his plans to seek the Democratic nomination in the primary race.

"I think I can make a difference," said Jakoces, who was unopposed in his second four-year term as township supervisor. "I want to help end the gridlock in Lansing."

Jakoces believes his accomplishments as township supervisor have provided a good background for work at the state level. His success in bringing diverse groups of people together in the township also will be an advantage in dealing with his constituents and colleagues. Lansing, if elected.

During Jakoces' administration paving improvements have been made on major roads, a host agreement was negotiated with Waste Management which will provide an 18-hole golf course, and improvements were made in the recreation programs. Construction of single-family housing as well as commercial and industrial facilities have occurred.

I have a tremendous amount of respect for Sen. Faust. He was a very good representative of the people of the District, and he is certain to be missed," Jakoces said. "I hope to further carry on the senator's programs, and to take advantage of the good advice that he has offered."

Jakoces said he would keep "his fingers on the pulse of the people at all times" by maintaining a close relationship with the people in the district.

"I am a believer in a law and order platform. I want to aid victims of crime and, at the same time, ensure the certainty of punishment to criminals," said Jakoces who served as a sergeant in the police reserves before making a bid for the township office.

Jakoces, who graduated from Edsel Ford High School in 1963, attended the University of Maryland, Commercial Trades Institute, Wayne County Cooperative/Michigan State University and the University of Michigan-Dearborn. He is a Vietnam veteran and a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Vietnam Veterans of America.

He served as director of neighborhood development, community development director, building and safety director and staff officer to the planning commission and zoning board of appeals in Taylor before re-locating in Van Buren Township.

State Sen. William Faust's decision not to seek re-election will have little impact on the campaign of Canton Township Clerk Loren Bennett who announced last month that he would seek election to the position.

Bennett has collected, to date, more than $50,000 to fund his campaign, he said, and he finds the grass-roots support of his campaign encouraging.

"It is overwhelming to say the least. It makes what I have to do much easier knowing I have strong support in my corner throughout the district," Bennett said.

Bennett is a life-long area resident and is an alumnus of Schoolcraft College. He is married and he and his wife, Terri, have two daughters, Wendy and Cindy.

Bennett was recently appointed by Gov. John Engler to the Michigan Underground Storage Tank Financial Assurance Policy Board. He said he would treat funding on the state level as he has on the local level for the past five years.

"As Canton Township clerk, I have been able to manage strict, lean budget," he said. "We've dealt with the explosive growth in our community without raising tax rates and we've done it with common sense management like foregoing the clerk's name on poll books, stationery and other supplies."

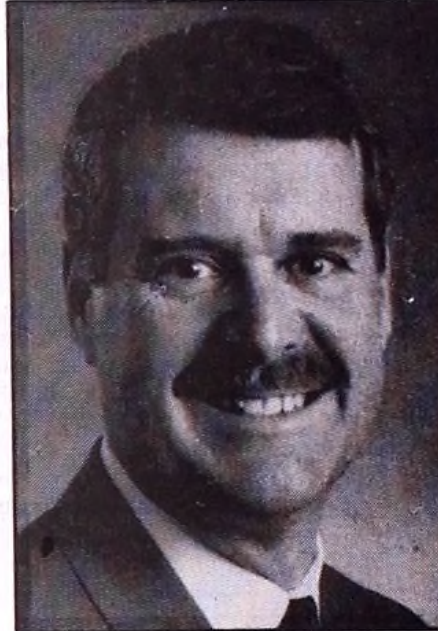

Bennett said his political philosophy is a simple one: "I believe that Michigan needs less government and we get that by using more common sense.

"The very simple way to cut fat is to elect people with no ego. You don't need to have your name on everything and it costs four to five times more (to special order stationery) than if you pick it up off the shelf."

Bennett said he has a special appreciation for the plight of small businessmen in the state. "I worked as a manager for British Petroleum, as a controller for the Plymouth Hilton, and most importantly, started my own real estate business where I had to keep costs low and provide for my employees. I understand what it takes to run a business and have to meet a payroll."

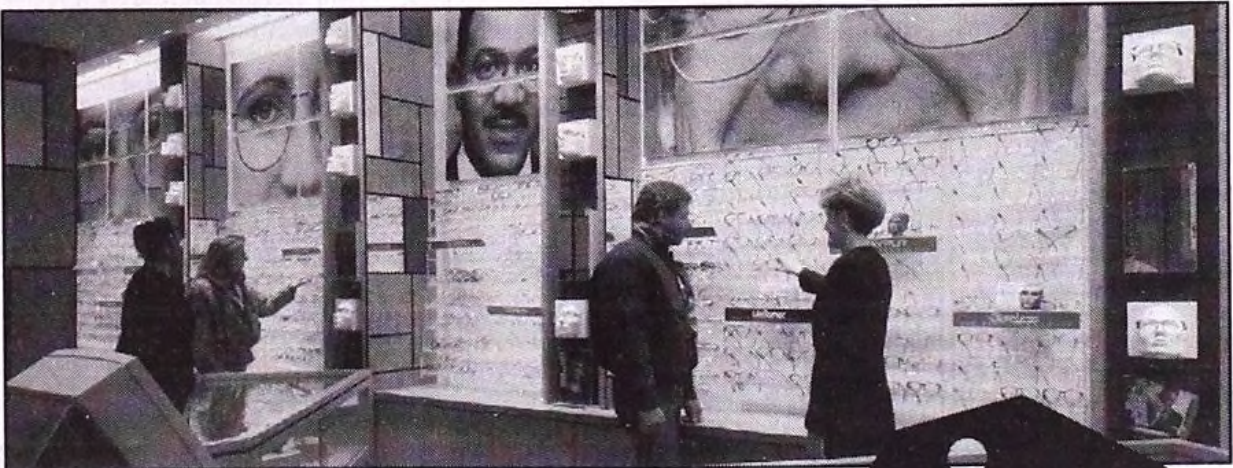

Bennett said that he and his wife have been knocking on doors throughout neighborhoods in the district seeking support for several weeks now. "We are actually having a lot of fun talking to and listening to people about what they care about. It's the kind of real information that polls just can't show," the candidate said.

act as depository of the proceeds of sale under the provisions of Section 15 of Act 94, in a separate subaccount within the Construction Fund designated SERIES 1994 CONSTRUCTION ACCOUNT. Moneys in the Series 1994 Construction Account shall be applied solely in payment of the cost of the Project and any engineering, legal and other expenses incident thereto and to the financing thereof, and shall be fully expended on Project costs within three years after the date of delivery of the Series 1994 Bonds.

Any unexpended balance of the proceeds of sale of the Series 1994 Bonds remaining after completion of the Project in the Construction Fund shall in the discretion of the City Council be used either for further improvements, enlargements and extension to the System, if, at the time of such expenditures, such use is approved by the Michigan Department of Treasury, if such purpose is then required by law, or for the purpose of purchasing Bonds on the open market at not more than the fair market value thereof, but not more than the price at which Bonds may next be called for redemption, or used for the purpose of paying principal of the Bonds upon maturity or calling Bonds for redemption.

The bonds of this issue are of equal standing and priority of lien as to the Net Revenues of the System with the Issuer's Water Supply and Sewage Disposal System Revenue Bonds, Series 1992A, dated February 1, 1992, in the original aggregate principal amount of $550,000, the Issuer's Water Supply and Sewage Disposal System Revenue Bonds, Series 1992B, dated July 1, 1992, in the original aggregate principal amount of $620,000 and the Issuer's Water Supply and Sewage Disposal System Revenue Bonds, Series 1993, dated April 1, 1993, in the original aggregate principal amount of $675,000 (collectively, the "Outstanding Bonds").

This bond is one of a series of bonds of even date of original issue, aggregating the principal sum of $845,000, issued pursuant to Ordinance No. 91-273, as amended, and Ordinance No. 94-1, duly adopted by the City Council of the Issuer, and under an in full compliance with the Constitution and laws of the State of Michigan, including specifically Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1943, as amended, for the purpose of paying the cost of acquiring and constructing of additions, extensions and improvements to the System, including sewer separation and combined sewer overflow improvements in connections with the Wayne County Downriver Wastewater Treatment System Project, together with all appurtenances and attachments thereto.

For a complete statement of the revenues from which and the conditions under which this bond is payable, a statement of the conditions under which additional bonds of equal standing with the bonds of this issue and the Outstanding Bonds may hereafter be issued and the general covenants and provisions pursuant to which this bond is issued, reference is made to the above-described Ordinances.

Bonds or portions of bonds in integral multiples of $5,000 maturing on or after July 1, 2004, shall be subject to redemption prior to maturity at the option of the Issuer, in such order of maturity as the Issuer shall determine and within any maturity by lot, on any interest payment date on or after July 1, 2003, at par and accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption plus a premium expressed as a percentage of par as follows:

1.0% of the par value of each bond or portion thereof called for redemption on or after July 1, 2003, but prior to July 1, 2004, and

0.5% of the par value of each bond or portion thereof called for redemption on or after July 1, 2004, but prior to July 1, 2005.

No premium shall be paid on bonds or portions thereof called for redemption on or after July 1, 2005.

The principal of and interest on this bond are secured by the statutory lien hereinbefore mentioned.

The Issuer has covenanted and agreed, and does hereby covenant and agree, to fix and maintain at all times while any bonds payable from the Net Revenues of the System shall be outstanding, such rates for service furnished by the System as shall be sufficient to provide for payment of the interest upon and to the principal of the Outstanding Bonds, the bonds of this issue, and any additional bonds of equal standing with the Outstanding Bonds and the bonds of this issue as and when the same shall become due and payable, and to maintain a bond redemption fund (including a bond reserve account) therefor, to provide for the payment of expenses of administration and operation and such expenses for maintenance of the System as are necessary to preserve the same in good repair and working order, and to provide for such other expenditures and funds for the System as are required by said Ordinances.

This bond is transferable only upon the books of the Issuer kept for that purpose at the office of the transfer agent by the registered owner in person or the registered owner's attorney duly authorized in writing, upon the surrender of this bond together with a written instrument of transfer satisfactory to the transfer agent, duly executed by the registered owner or the registered owner's attorney duly authorized in writing, and thereupon a new bond or bonds in the same aggregate principal amount and of the same maturity shall be issued to the transferee in exchange therefor as provided in the Ordinance authorizing the bonds and upon payment of the charges, if any, therein prescribed.

This bond is not valid or obligatory for any purpose until the transfer agent's Certificate of Authentication on this bond has been executed by the transfer agent.

It is hereby certified and recited that all acts, conditions and things are required by law precedent to and in the issuance of this bond and the Series of Bonds of which this is one have been done and performed in regular and due time and form as required by law.

State motorists are buckling up

Thanks to increased traffic-safety efforts in Michigan, more and more automobile drivers and motorcyclists are taking measures to protect themselves on roadways, according to a University of Michigan (U-M) study.

Researchers stationed at 168 intersections and freeway exits throughout the state last fall observed 64.4 percent of drivers and front-seat passengers wearing safety belts, a 13-percent increase from summer 1992. In addition, 99 percent of motorcyclists sighted were wearing helmets.

"The overall belt-use rate represents a higher rate than in any of the previous 14 surveys (since 1984)," said Fredrick M. Streff of the U-M Transportation Research Institute (UMTRI).

"Perhaps the most important reasons for the increase are the safety-belt enforcement efforts and accompanying public information and education programs that have been conducted statewide by the Michigan State Police Office of Highway Safety Planning, as well as by various local programs promoting safety-belt use."

Another reason, Streff said, is that cars built since 1990 are equipped with automatic restraint systems - safety belts or air bags - as required by federal law. "There is consistent evidence that shows higher use rates for occupants in vehicles equipped with automatic shoulder-restraint systems than those with manual systems."

According to the study, slightly more motorists observed on freeway exit ramps than those stopped at intersections were wearing safety belts, indicating greater seat-belt use on expressways than on other roads.

In addition, use of safety restraints is greatest during the morning rush hours with nearly 74 percent of observed drivers and front-seat passengers wearing safety belts. Also, Streff said, "Unfortunately, belt use is lowest in our most populous county," with 55.4 percent of Wayne County motorists wearing safety belts - less than most other areas in the state.

Conducted in the 28 most populous state counties, the study involved 17,719 front-seat occupants in 13,669 passenger cars. It also included 177 motorcyclists, all but one of whom were wearing helmets.

"These impressive results show that Michigan's helmet law and the enforcement of this law are effective in promoting helmet use," Streff said.

Unlike the helmet law, however, the safety-belt law is not a primary enforcement measure - that is, police are not allowed to ticket drivers solely because they are not wearing safety belts. Streff believes that compliance with Michigan's safety-belt law would be facilitated if it permitted primary enforcement.

"But even without such new legislation, stricter enforcement of the current law, coupled with major publicity campaigns, can be effective in increasing belt use," he said. "Issuing safety-belt citations regularly to motorists being cited for another violation can be particularly effective in increasing safety-belt use, because traffic-law offenders are less likely to use safety belts than non-offenders. Thus, even with secondary enforcement, police have many opportunities to affect the segment of the population at greatest risk for non-use."

270 new troopers to be recruited

Increased funding for the three new trooper recruit schools will enable the State Police to place 270 additional troopers on duty.

The result will be the largest number of state troopers in Michigan in 14 years.

"With this budget, Michigan citizens will see a strong, viable state trooper presence - the largest presence since 1980," said Governor John Engler.

"With a total of 1,272 troopers, state residents can rest assured that fighting crime will be the number-one priority of the State Police," House Bill 5265 provides $6.35 million to fund three trooper recruit schools, beginning in February, April and September in fiscal year 1995, which will graduate 270 officers.

In addition the State Police budget includes $6.38 million to fully fund 88 troopers hired in the last fiscal year, $1 million for the Secondary Road Patrol program, $293,000 for the continued phase-in of the 800 megahertz radio systems, $194,900 for the additional costs of new/replacement posts, $500,000 for a criminal records project, $200,000 for emergency management purposes.

Fitness first Business offers ways to win in the 'battle of the bulge'

BY LAURIE HUMPHREY
ANP Staff Writer

Tired of hiding behind a beach towel every time you go to the pool and fed up with all the weight loss gimmicks?

Lorraine Hayes, owner of The Winning Way in Canton Township, understands these feelings because she was there.

"I have been battling a weight problem all my life," she said, "but I found my answer in this product and I want to help other people, too."

Through a variety of First Fitness nutritional, health and weight-loss products, Hayes lost 65 pounds without exercising or dieting last May and kept it off.

A skeptic, Hayes took all the products to her doctor before using them to verify the safety and weight loss effects.

"In my opinion, it sounded too good to be true," she said, "but it's not."

Hayes was not the only one to notice the changes in her weight. In fact, after co-workers saw the positive effects in her appearance, attitude and health, they became her first customers.

"My clients include the young and the old, both men and woman," Hayes said. "And everyone is seeing the same results I did. It's such an easy thing to do."

Providing health products to the public for more than a year, Hayes said business has been wonderful. She and her husband, Reggie, open their 42398 Edenbrooke house to clientele from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. seven days a week.

Hayes, trained to market and distribute the products, believes First Fitness offers a better option than the competition.

"A lot of our products have anti-aging ingredients. They're affordable, natural and safe," she said. "If people want to look great and feel great, they should come see us. And we offer a 100-percent money back guarantee if they are not satisfied."

According to Hayes, the hottest items have been the Ultra Fit Weight Loss System and TNT (tone and tightening) cream. She suspects however, that a newly-developed cream which firms the bustling will be an instant success when it debuts in June.

For a limited time, VIP card holders can receive a free product sample with any purchase. Call 981-0044 for more information or a free consultation.

Appliance store appeals to budgets

BY LAURIE HUMPHREY
ANP Staff Writer

A new Westland business has a solution for those seeking to replace faulty appliances but are on a strict budget.

Cooper's Reconditioned Appliances offers an alternative to the high-priced appliance store. In the business of reconditioned air conditioners, washers/dryers, stoves, microwaves and more, consumers can pick up what they need for 60-percent less at 1912 Venoy Road, at Palmer in the Palace Supermarket strip mall.

"We also offer a warranty on our appliances," said owner Mark Cooper. "We stand behind everything we sell."

Cooper and two employees cater to customers Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Fridays and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays, by buying used appliances and "putting them in good working order."

They also make $18.50 service calls, offer delivery and will pick up any old appliances.

Cooper, a General Motors employee for almost 20 years, bought his shop from a previous owner more than a year ago in pursuit of the American dream of owning his own business. Although business has been good, he expects it will increase once people see he is offering a 10-percent discount to VIP card holders.

Gas stoves have been the most popular items, said Cooper. "In fact we can't even keep them in."

Also topping the popularity list are dryers, beginning at $99, during the fall season and refrigerators starting at $129 for the spring and summer.

Cooper's Appliance offers nearly new appliances like these at bargain prices.
